WTO Faces Setback on Implementation of Bali Trade Deal 31 July 2014: Geneva, Switzerland

The deadline for adoption of the World Trade Organization's (WTO) Trade Facilitation Agreement (TFA) passed on 31 July without reaching a consensus. WTO Director General Roberto Azevêdo reports "the remaining gaps are unbridgeable with the time that we have". The prospect of missing the TFA deadline has prompted both WTO members and the broader trade community to speculate on the wider ramifications for resolving the remaining elements of the Doha Round trade talks.

8th SAFTA Ministerial Council focuses on Regional Economic Cooperation

24 July 2014: Thimphu, Bhutan

Increasing regional economic cooperation to boost intra-regional trade among member countries of South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) was the primary agenda of the meeting. Ministers of Commerce and Trade of SAARC member countries comprising the SAFTA Ministerial Council (SMC) reviewed issues regarding the reduction of sensitive items in trade lists, tariffs and non-tariff barriers, trade facilitation and harmonization of customs policies, promotion of trade and investment among regional countries of SAARC, and increasing intra-regional physical connectivity. The SAFTA Committee of Experts also endorsed to the SMC the establishment of a SAARC Development Bank to finance infrastructure development in the region.

WTO Trade Facilitation Agreement Facility Support LDCs and Developing Countries

22 July 2014: Geneva, Switzerland

A Trade Facilitation Agreement Facility (TFAF) was launched by the World Trade Organization on 22 July 2014, further ensuring that least developed countries (LDCs) and developing countries will receive necessary assistance in implementing the trade facilitation agreement. The TFAF is expected to complement existing assistance programs by regional and multilateral agencies, bilateral donors, and other stakeholders through enhancing coordination between LDCs/developing countries and possible development partners, and filling gaps in funding sources by helping LDCs and developing countries find sources of funds for project implementation.

Coastal Shipping between Bangladesh and India to Enhance Transport, Trade

20 July 2014: New Delhi, India

A coastal shipping arrangement between Bangladesh and India will soon facilitate faster shipment of goods between the two countries, and enable better access to India's northeastern regions. Trials runs of vessels from Bangladesh and India between the ports of Chittagong and Kolkata port are scheduled to begin by October 14. This agreement is expected to boost bilateral trade—currently amounting around $6 billion—between India and Bangladesh by encouraging export and outsourcing.

Chittagong Port Sees Steady Increase in Container Handling 9 July 2014: Dhaka, Bangladesh

Bangladesh's Chittagong Port recorded a rise of 10.46% in container handling during fiscal year 2013-2014. As the country's premier seaport, it facilitates more than 92% of the country's import-export trade. The 2013-2014 statistic counts as Chittagong Port's biggest growth in terms of cargo handled. ADB approved the Chittagong Port Trade Facilitation Project in October 2004 to increase the capacity of its container terminal and upgrade its port security and environmental management to international standards. Among the project's primary objectives was fostering more international trade by offering lower shipping and port charges.
